

Daniel Simon '14 (J.D./M.B.A.)

Chief Technology Officer and Chief Operating Officer Bread Finance

Daniel Simon '14 (J.D./M.B.A.) is Chief Technology Officer and Chief Operating Officer of Bread Finance, a consumer financial technology startup in New York backed by Bessemer Venture Partners and other venture capital firms. Mr. Simon cofounded the company along with Josh Abramowitz '97 while a student at YLS/SOM. Prior to law school, he spent several years as a principal at financial technology consultancy Lab49, where he led teams to design and build systems for Wall Street banks, asset managers, and hedge funds, and then spent a year as Chief Architect of Quantitative Systems for UBP Asset Management. He holds a B.A. in International Relations from Boston University.