

Stephen M. Cutler is Vice Chairman of JPMorgan Chase & Co. From 2007 through 2015, he was the company's General Counsel.

Before joining JPMorgan Chase, Cutler was a partner at Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP in Washington, D.C. and co-chair of the firm's Securities Department.

From 2001 to 2005, Cutler served as Director of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's Division of Enforcement, where he oversaw the Commission's investigations of Enron and WorldCom, as well as those involving NYSE specialists, research analyst conflicts and mutual fund market timing and revenue sharing.

Before joining the SEC as Deputy Director of Enforcement in 1999, Cutler was a partner at Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering in Washington, D.C.

Cutler is a 1985 graduate of Yale Law School, where he served as an editor of the Yale Law Journal, and a 1982 graduate (summa cum laude) of Yale University.

Following law school, he was a law clerk to Judge Dorothy Nelson of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and then served as a Visiting Fellow at the Center for Law in the Public Interest in Los Angeles.

Cutler is on the boards of the Legal Action Center, the National Women's Law Center and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He is also currently a Visiting Lecturer in Law at Yale Law School, where he is co-teaching a course called "Global Inside Counsel: The Challenges of an In-House Counsel in an Increasingly Integrated World."
