

David Richter '92

David Richter '92 is the Chief Business Officer of Lime, the electric scooter sharing start-up. He joined Lime in October 2018.

David was Uber's Global Head of Business and Corporate Development from June 2017 through May 2018. He was a member of the Executive Leadership Team (ELT), reporting to the CEO, and led the business development, corporate development and brand relevance teams. David first joined Uber in January 2014 as Vice President, Strategic Initiatives.

Earlier, David held a wide variety of roles at startup companies, including leading business and corporate development, legal, finance and product teams. He played a significant role in DivX's 2006 IPO and in the sale of two public companies – DivX in 2010 and Sonic Solutions in 2011. David was also a venture capitalist at Maveron, a lawyer in private practice and a professor of intellectual property law in China.

David holds a J.D. from Yale Law School and B.A. in Government from Cornell University.