Lane Dilg '04

Global Government Partnerships Lead, OpenAI

Lane Dilg '04 leads Global Government Partnerships at OpenAI, where she supports governments around the world as they improve operations and advance service delivery in areas including education, health, and climate action and resilience.

An experienced public sector executive, Lane's past work includes advising White House and U.S. Department of Energy leadership in deploying over $400 billion in public funds to catalyze private investment in the clean energy economy; managing a city through the global COVID-19 pandemic and related economic crisis; drafting and defending precedent-setting public health, affordable housing, and worker protection laws; counseling CXO leadership of a global public research university; and developing privacy and cybersecurity policy as counsel on the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee. She began her career as a law clerk to the Honorable Raymond C. Fisher on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Lane is a graduate of the Yale Law School, Harvard Divinity School, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she was a Morehead Scholar. She lives in Washington D.C., where she enjoys hiking and kayaking along the Potomac with her family.
