

Douglas Fischer

Chief Legal Officer, National Association of Cannabis Businesses

Douglas Fischer is the Chief Legal Officer of the National Association of Cannabis Businesses, where he is focused on establishing compliance standards for the cannabis industry. As a Washington, D.C.-based-attorney, Doug has represented dozens of corporations and individuals in an array of settings spanning white collar criminal, regulatory, and complex commercial matters. He has deep experience with anti-money laundering laws, the Controlled Substances Act, cannabis regulation, securities laws, and corporate compliance programs.