

Andrew Hauser

Executive Director for Banking, Payments and Financial Resilience, Bank of England

Andrew Hauser is the Executive Director for Banking, Payments and Financial Resilience. In this role, Mr. Hauser leads the teams responsible for: the assessment of financial risks to the Bank of England's balance sheet; the operation and strategic development of the Bank's provision of payment system services, including in particular the Real-Time Gross Settlement infrastructure, which settles over £500bn of daily sterling payments and securities transactions; and the Bank's wholesale and retail banking operations, including the provision of Emergency Liquidity Assistance.

Mr. Hauser joined the Bank in 1992, and has worked widely at senior levels across most of its major policy and operational areas. Most recently, Mr. Hauser was Director for Markets Strategy, where he led the joint Bank / HM Treasury/ FCA team that produced the Fair and Effective Markets Review. Prior to that, he was head of the Bank's sterling markets operations, Private Secretary to the Governor, represented the United Kingdom as Alternate UK Executive Director to the IMF in Washington, D.C., and led the production of the Inflation Report and oversight of the Bank's Regional Agency network. He has also served on the secretariats to both the Monetary Policy Committee and the Financial Policy Committee.

Mr. Hauser is a Non-Executive Director and Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee for the NHS Litigation Authority. He has an MSc in Economics from the London School of Economics and an MA in Politics, Philosophy and Economics from Oxford University.
